

Un-American Boycott of Upton Close

Joseph Washington Hall, alias Upton Close, has been ordered dropped by the National Broadcasting Company from the radio program sponsored by the Sheaffer Pen Co. Close does not like the idea or the action. He is still writing his column in the Hearst papers and is broadcasting over the Mutual network on Sundays at 3:30 P. M., Pacific time.

In a recent Hearst column he discusses the incident as follows:

... topic is the personal matter of my severance from the National Broadcasting Company's network. Since it seems to have uncovered the slickest way on earth to cut the throat of an oppositionist and American voice, I believe the facts should be put on record. They are:

1. For five years I have had very fruitful relations for both sides with N. B. C. and have during all this time received from them top billing with no open hint of difficulty and with the pleasantest of relations between myself and the newsroom editors of N. B. C. They have read and approved every piece of copy on my N. B. C. programs and N. B. C. therefore is itself accountable for the propriety of those programs.

2. Believing the entire action was kept secret from me, N. B. C. suddenly bore down on my sponsor, Mr. Sheaffer, to whom they themselves had sold me along with the time, and told him that he could have the time but not me any longer. No reason for such arbitrary censorship of what may go on their air has not yet been given to Mr. Sheaffer or to me.

3. I can only assume that there are three sources from which could come enough pressure on N. B. C. to cause them to do such an unusual thing. One would be alien propaganda and information establishments in this country backed by their governments at home. Another would be groups which threaten un-American boycott action in our own country. The third would be influence from our own Federal Communications Commission or through them from yet higher up in our own officialdom.

The pressure on N. B. C., I repeat, could be from one or two or all three of these sources. To give in to such pressure is the death knell of American free expression and the opening door to Hitlerism here.

* * * *

These three possible sources which, divested of their camouflage, means, first, that Russian-British-Dutch governments object to the ideas Close is presenting over the radio and they started out with a trial balloon, driving in the thin end of the wedge to separate Close from the NBC network first, to be followed up with other measures, depending on how the public reacts.

The "other" group would be the Jewish group combined with the Hillman CIO, the same group by two different fronts.

And finally the New Dealers as represented by our Federal Communications Commission.

Does this enumeration not sound familiar to you? Don't you recall Lindbergh's speech at Des Moines where he charged the British, the Jews and the New Dealers with wanting this nation to join in the war and how a holy horror arose and a disclaimer which denounced this bold statement. It was followed by Lindbergh being barred from broadcasting.

Where was Upton Close then? Did he raise his voice against stifling the American voice of a patriot over the radio? And what about Fr. Coughlin when the Pope received $125,000 and the Council of Federated Churches another $125,000 from Jewish sources, followed by Coughlin being ordered off the air by his own bishop.

Even Walter Winchell has come and asked the question where Upton Close was when he, Winchell, had his fight with the head of the congressional smear bund, alias Dies committee, where the two arch smearers did such a splendid job on each other. We rejoiced at the time and featured Winchell too, for we enjoy giving the devil his due and we do it again today.

Winchell, the Constitutionalist, presented the most telling indictment against Winchell, the intolerant, vicious un-American smearer, when Winchell defended his own constitutional privilege to free speech. He made a marvelous job of it in exposing Winchell the character assassin, and of course, he knew it, but, naturally, he is a first class example of Jekyll and Hyde. But Winchell, scoundrel that he is, IS RIGHT. Even though the Devil himself stood up for the Constitutional Bill of Rights, Close should have spoken up, not for the Devil but for the principle of the thing. God Almighty does not stop the sun from shining on the unrighteous and so the Constitution also applies to all, righteous and unrighteous, and we stood in Winchell's corner and rahrahd for him, then walked over to Die's corner and rahrahd for him too, whenever either hit the right spot.

Now we stand with Upton Close demanding that the N. B. C. state WHY it boycotts Joseph Washington Hall, alias Upton Close.

WHAT WILL THE OUTCOME BE?

Of course we have to smile at the whole thing. Here is Close and here is this "Moscow sedition trial" going on for the self-same reasons that Close is being boycotted. Here is THE BROOM being blacklisted by the Jewish anti-Defamation League, harrassed by Jack Tenney's little smear bund, with the editor in jail for exposing exactly those same three groups which Close is listing now as the probable ones who demand his liquidation as a public speaker. And radio station KFMB, in San Diego, even took our money for two broadcasts but suddenly, AFTER it had approved our script, refused us the use of their facilities to broadcast. And where was Upton Close then?

As long as Close was collecting his "honorarium" for his broadcasts he cared little for the Bill of Rights for others. Now the knife is at his own throat and he certainly hollers like a pig caught in the gate, and we are glad he does, because now the larger public has a chance to see that everything we wrote about ALIEN influences in our country from all three groups are no invention of ours but is the truth about who is un-American in America.

"RODENTS" Remembered Dewey

Dear Mr. Editor:

Dewey showed what he thinks about Americans when, on April 4th before a Banquet of Jewish Welfare Workers, he denounced American Firsters as "rodents polluting the stream of American life". Those words were recalled when nationalists went to the polls, even tho they had no candidate to voice their views, against entangling alliances, Lords of the Exchequer, etc.

From the experience of Landon, Willkie, Dewey should have known that "World" Firsters know who has been buttering their bread and that no one can out-Roosevelt, Roosevelt. The members of America First leave to Stalin and Churchill the task of minding the stream of Russian and English life. Before the world convulsion is thru, all of us will wish we had been anti-interventionists.

Altho we must get down to the business of winning the war with increased vigor, we will now see whether the 1 party system of Communism, Fascism and Nazism has replaced the American 2 party system. So confused are Americans that they no longer seem to be interested in their own particular branch of mankind. In any event the laugh will not be on Gerald P. Nye or Hamilton Fish but on those who are going to be made to "Eat Crow" and like it.

A Political Trial

Attorneys for a number of the defendants in the sedition trial in Washington have appealed to the court for protection. The prosecutor is accused of having made "inflammatory and prejudicial public utterances" against one of the men on trial and shots are said to have been fired at several of the lawyers.

What basis there may be for either or both of these charges we do not know, but this we do know; that the government's conduct of this case from its beginning constitutes a lasting blot upon the department of justice as it has been administered under Mr. Roosevelt. Not since the notorious sedition trials in the Adams administration has there been anything in this country's legal history to compare with the present proceedings in their infamous disregard of the spirit of our institutions.

The defendants are for much the most part cranks, crackpots, and ranters. They are an unlovely lot, given to hate and violent expression of their opinion and sentiments. One of the objects of their hate was communism. Another was the Jews. Another was Mr. Roosevelt. They spoke and wrote harshly and, as the vast majority of their fellow citizens believe, unreasonably, but there is no law and, under the Constitution, there can be no law to punish men in this country for the expression of political opinion.

The law under which this prosecution is being conducted makes it an offense to undermine the morale of the soldiers and sailors. If the defendants are guilty of this crime they should have been charged with it directly and the proof would not have required months. Instead, Mr. Biddle has accused them of conspiring together to commit the crime and the evidence so far has been concerned largely not with what they did but with what they wrote and said. The prosecution is expected to continue for months with the presentation of its case.

If these men and women are guilty of undermining the morale of the army and navy they should be punished, but it was not necessary to charge them with conspiracy nor to drag them to Washington for trial en masse, with all the delays and injustices which that procedure inevitably has entailed.

As matters stand, there is no escaping the conclusion that this is a political trial. This administration wants it to stand as a precedent for further efforts to punish those who dare to voice their political opposition.—Chicago Trib.

DEWEY ATTACKED LEND LEASE . . .

"The President's so-called defense bill (Lend Lease) would bring an end to free government in the United States and would abolish the congress for all practical purposes . . . This bill is an attempt to abolish free government in the United States . . . In short, this bill empowers the President to commit acts of war without the approval of Congress in any conflict—present or future—anywhere in the world . . ." (Excerpts from World-Telegram, January 11, 1941).

BRITAIN TO CONSIDER ISSUING DATA ON PALESTINE TERRORISM

LONDON,—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons he would consider issuance of a White Paper dealing with terrorism in Palestine as an outgrowth of the assassination of Lord Moyne, British resident minister in the Middle East.

Conservative Earl Winterton had inquired whether a White Paper was contemplated, "especially in view of the fact that malicious rumors are being put about in London that the government are hesitating to publish such a paper because it might create anti-Semitism and do mischief with our Allies in America."

Mr. Eden said Lord Moyne, a member of the wealthy Guinness brewing family, ordered discontinuance of his police escort and house guard in Cairo several months ago. He said the assassins gave the names of Moshe Cohen Itzhak and Chaim Saltzman and were members of the Stern group of Jewish terrorists.

"The reason they give is that he (Lord Moyne) was head of a political department of the British government in the Middle East and was carrying out a policy which was against that of the Jewish nationals" Mr. Eden said.

CANADA KEEPS VOLUNTEER PLAN FOR DUTY ABROAD

OTTAWA, Ont.,—Men drafted for home defense will not be sent overseas now to reinforce Canada's overseas army, Prime Minister Mackenzie stated. The Government will continue to depend upon volunteers to reinforce the dominion's overseas army, which is completely volunteer.

King said J. L. Ralston, former minister of national defense, who resigned last week, had done so because his recommendation that draftees be sent overseas had been rejected.

King also said Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian army, had advised against use of draftees overseas. McNaughton was appointed to replace Ralston.

Modern literary tastes seem intent on making a "best seller" out of a worst smeller.

Judge Declares Racing Illegal

DETROIT,— Horse racing in Michigan was declared illegal in an opinion handed down in Detroit by Circuit Judge Guy A. Miller, who also held that the state is a partner in the "public shame".

Judge Miller's opinion said that the special legislative act legalizing horse racing at the state fair grounds was unconstitutional.

"The whole system is so inconsistent, hypocritical and illogical as to amount to a public shame and disgrace," he declared.

Judge Miller's ruling was made after property owners on State Fair ave., objected to the construction of new horse barns on state fair grounds property in the rear of their homes.

Supreme Court Again Denies Tyler Kent Plea

WASHINGTON, D. C.,—The Supreme court, for the second time, rejected an appeal of Mrs. Ann H. P. Kent of Washington for court intervention in the case of her son, Tyler Kent, who was convicted and imprisoned in Great Britain on a charge of violating the British official war secrets act. Kent was formerly a code clerk in the American embassy in London.

Churchill Warns Jews of Terrorism

LONDON, Prime Minister Churchill grimly warned the Jews of Palestine and the world to purge terrorist gangs to protect the future of Zionism.

He denounced the assassination in Cairo of Lord Moyne, British minister resident in the Middle East, which has been attributed officially to members of the notorious Jewish Stern gang.

Court Forbids Truck Drivers To Refuse To Move Goods

BOSTON,— Superior Judge Raoul Beaudreau issued an order forbidding union truck drivers to refuse to move perishable goods stored at the Boston market terminal.

The order also forbade officers of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A. F. L.) to interfere with truckmen transporting goods from the terminal.

Obtained by the Boston Market Terminal Co., a co-operative food receiving and distributing concern, the order will become effective as soon as it can be served on the respondents.

Those named in the action also were commanded to appear in Suffolk court to show cause why the restraining order should not be made permanent.

Members Named

Those named as respondents were P. H. Jennings, trustee of the local; President John M. Sullivan, "John Doe, Richard Roe" and "all other members of Local 25."

The court action was described by lawyers as "unusual" in that the state labor relations act forbids the courts to issue such an injunction where labor disputes are involved unless it is possible to prove "irreparable injury" has occurred.

Judge Beaudreau found in his ruling "that unlawful acts are being committed and will be committed by the respondents unless they are restrained," and "that substantial and irreparable injury to the complainants' property will follow."

Drivers Tell Stand

Spokesmen for the "holidaying" truck drivers said that they would not return to work until the union officers agreed to abide by the union constitution. They charged that Sullivan had announced he was "in for the duration" when they protested his failure to receive nominations of officers at a meeting which they said was the date set by the union constitution for opening of the triennial elections.

Meanwhile Gov. Saltonstall said he could call out the state guard to help transport food and other necessities if an "extreme" emergency arose.

The opposition accused the present administration at Washington of being "dreadfully tired". Not half as tired as those of us who have had to struggle along under all its rules and regulations.

Nudeal: Communism, Fascism AND THE REMEDY?

Our policy has been to teach MONOTHEISM, which means SIMPLICITY, integrity, which is the greatest crime nowadays. Today a new idol has arisen, the rule of duplicity, be smart.

FDR is the apostle of this new rule, called new deal. He says one thing and does the opposite. To say what you mean and do it that is the capital crime under his rulership and administration. And this is the SIGN of his character which is stamped into every act of his long tenure of office.

Monotheism is the opposite of duplicity. There is ONLY one Truth, one standard, one GOD, one principle and no duplicity. This, of course, even the ALIENS in our midst admit THEORETICALLY, when pinned down. But in practice they prefer FDR's method. Because we exposed this Jewish duplicity we are on the blacklist of the anti-Defamation committee and were jailed and proscribed from the radio. But evidently, God still rules supreme, because inspite of it all we continue to publish THE BROOM.

Jesus was crucified because he stood out as the incarnation of integrity and simplicity. He refused to compromise with expediency. Every Christian to be a Christian must follow his example and rather give his life as a sacrifice to keep the Commandments than compromise against them and forfeit his soul. For what does it profit man to win the whole world when he sold his soul to the Devil by using violence against the very things he professes to be his highest aim, as the Jews profess: To love and serve God with all their might and their neighbor as themselves.

Is it un-American to be American? Is integrity a crime and duplicity becomes the virtue of Americans? Benjamin de Casseres states the case against un-Americanism correctly when he points to the truth that to be an individual, an American, one must have the WILL that finds the way and never gives up. All others turn to collectivism for salvation, because they can be taken care of by their "betters" who do all the deciding in the collectivist state. And most people don't seem to realize it, a monarchist state is also a collectivist state, because the feudal idea is that the "betters" rule the "commoners" and the commoners are the herd who do the work while their betters tell them what's good for them. Stalin is a monarch with greater effect even than the Czar was and this, too, is the goal of the New Deal in America.

Here is what De Casseres says about the relationship of WILL to self-government, with its responsibilities:

Speaking of collectivism, I think that Communism, Socialism and Fascism are diseases of the will. Their use and progress throughout the world is a symptom of the decay of individualism, initiative and a belief in the responsible self. Wherever there is any form of compulsory collectivism there is general paralysis of the will power.

"A man that'd expect to train lobsters to fly in a year is called a loonytic; but a man who thinks men can be turned into angels by an illiction is called a rayformer an' remains at large."—Mr. Dooley's sayings by Finley Peter Dunne.

Quo Vadis, Uncle Sam?

Are we on the road to becoming Germanized and Russianized? The whole tendency politically and socially in this country for many years has been toward collectivism, the destruction of individual liberty and the making of state-parasites of Americans (and that applies to England, as well.)

No more solemn and thoughtful warning of the way we are headed has been uttered in this century than you will find in a great book, "The Road to Serfdom," by Friederich A. Hayek (University of Chicago Press), an Austrian economist now living in London. This is the book of a powerful thinker and a political seer. John Chamberlain, who wrote the introduction, tells us:

"The shibboleths of our times are expressed in a variety of terms: 'full employment,' 'planning,' 'social security,' 'freedom from want.' The facts of our times suggest that none of these things can be had when they are made conscious objects of government policy. They are the fools'-gold words. In Italy they debauched a people and led to death under the burning African suns. In Russia there was the first Five-Year-Plan; there was also the liquidation of three million kulaks. In Germany there was full employment between 1935 and 1939; but 600,000 Jews are now deprived of their property, scattered to the ends of the earth or lying in mass graves in the Polish forests. And in America, the pump never quite filled up after the successive primings. War alone saved the politicians of 'full employment'."

Mr. Hayek, in 16 superb chapters, demolishes forever the superstition that we can have Socialism in any form and not lose our liberties. He knows, for he has lived in Central Europe, where all slave-doctrines, including Communism and Fascism, are born; for Fascism is "Prussianism" and Communism is Marxism, both German in origin. Listen to Mr. Hayek:

"Students of the currents of ideas can hardly fail to see that there is more than a superficial similarity between the trend of thought in Germany during and after the last war and the present current of ideas in the democracies. There exists now in these countries certainly the same determination that the organization of the nation which has been achieved for purposes of defense shall be retained for the purposes of creation. There is the same contempt for nineteenth-century liberalism, the same spurious 'realism' and even cynicism, the same fatalistic acceptance of 'inevitable trends'. Although one does not like to be reminded, it is not so many years since the Socialist policy of that country was generally held up by progressives as an example to be imitated.

"The supreme tragedy is still not seen—that in Germany it was largely people of 'good will', men who were admired and held up as models in the democratic countries, who prepared the way for, if they did not actually create, the forces which now stand for everything they detest."

Every line in this book should be studied and pondered by all Americans. If you love the U. S. A. and your liberties "The Road to Serfdom" is as precious as bread.—Benjamin DeCasseres.

RETURN OF LAND GRANTED TO RAILROADS CALLED FAIR IF LINKED TO BILL

WASHINGTON,—Congress, when it adjourned for the political campaign, left behind one curious bit of unfinished business. This is the business of cancelling the long-standing agreement whereby the railroads charge less for hauling troops and military supplies than they charge for hauling civilians and commercial freight.

The agreement has existed for three-quarters of a century. It was made at the time the railroads were being extended into the West and was intended as a partial offset to the gift of vast areas of land by the Government to the railroad companies.

Under the original acts of Congress setting this up, all Government business had the benefit of the reduced rates. Four years ago Congress abrogated the agreement as it applied to civilian Government business, but left it in effect with respect to the Army and Navy. Now it is proposed to abolish the reduced passenger and freight rates provided for the armed forces, likewise. A bill to accomplish this passed the House in August and is expected to come up for action in the Senate before the end of the year.

The Agriculture and Interior Departments have stepped forth with a proposal that probably would be considered fair by the American people if the American people had an opportunity to examine it. It is that if the railroads are relieved of the bargain they made at the time of the land grants they be required to give back to the Government the land they still hold.

This does not refer to any land used in their railroad operations, but only to land they are holding to sell, just as they already have sold the greater part of the acreage given them by the Government. The land not yet sold by the railroads out of the original 132,000,000 acres, amounts to some 15,000,000 acres, with an estimated value of $60,000,000. For the most part it is completely intermingled with lands owned by the Government—public parks, national forests, grazing districts and the like.

Map Like Checkerboard

The original grants gave the railroad companies every other section of land a certain number of miles on either side of the railroad. In some regions a map covering the Government and the railroad holdings still looks like a checkerboard. Development and utilization of the Government lands is made more difficult by this situation.

We can promise an end to all ancestor worship when posterity inherits the debts of our generation.

Crippled Jap-American Soldier Is Ejected From Barber Shop

POSTON, Arizona.—The War Relocation Authority reported a crippled Japanese-American Army private, wearing many service ribbons, had been ejected from a civilian barber shop near this WRA center because of the owner's objection to his ancestry.

Andy Hale, the barber, acknowledged he had ordered the soldier not to come into his shop but denied shoving or forcing the infantryman. The WRA said the veteran, walking with a crutch, had been shoved from the establishment.

Hale, father of three sons in the armed service, said a sign on the front of his Parker, Ariz., shop reads: "Japs Keep Out, You Rat."

"Don't Want Their Business."

"I don't want none of their business," Hale asserted. "They might close me up but I sure as hell won't work on a Jap."

Hale, in answer to a question, said it made no difference to him whether the Japanese-Americans were civilians or soldiers. "They look just alike to me," explained the Fort Worth, Tex., native, who has lived 20 years in Arizona.

Mrs. Pauline Brown, reports officer for the WRA center, said the soldier was Pvt. Raymond Matsuda, 29, former resident of Hawaii, who was shot in the knee on the Italian front July 22.

Matsuda, Mrs. Brown related, was wearing seven Army ribbons and badges, including the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Purple Heart.

Long Service Record Cited

He served two years overseas, she reported, with the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, an outstanding unit on the Italian front.

Mrs. Brown said Matsuda came to visit friends here. He has been at the Army's Hammond General Hospital at Modesto, Calif. She reported Matsuda gave this version of the incident:

Matsuda went into the shop without noticing the sign and was confronted by Hale, who said, "Can't you see that sign!"

The soldier replied he hadn't noticed it, but even so he was wearing a United States Army uniform. Hale then shoved him out the door. Hale said, "I didn't touch the soldier—he didn't even come into the shop. I met him at the door and told him not to come in. That's all there was to it."

About 8 or 10 months ago, Hale said, he stopped another Japanese-American soldier from walking into his establishment.

TOBACCO AND LEND-LEASE

CHICAGO,—A contributing factor to the present domestic cigaret shortage is the fact that quantities of tobacco are being lend-leased to the United Kingdom and other favored nations. I doubt if many people in the United States will deny the probable need for tobacco in these countries or would feel strongly against helping as much as we can. However, only a few people know the mechanics of this transaction, and those that do object.

To begin with, lend-lease purchasers of tobacco for the favored nations are made by the Commodity Credit corporation (using our money) in competition with domestic buyers. In fact, from a competition standpoint, the Commodity Credit corporation does not have to abide by price ceilings, so that they are in a position not only to satisfy their wants, but also to obtain the choice tobaccos.

The tobacco thus obtained by the Commodity Credit corporation is then lend-leased to the various countries and converted into cigars and cigarettes, which are in turn sold by these countries on the open market.

In this way countries obtaining tobacco on lend-lease actually receive money for something they obtained from us for nothing.

'Sedition' Case Lawyer Cited for Contempt; Eicher Raps Defense

WASHINGTON,—Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher, presiding at the sedition trial, in adjudging a defense attorney in contempt of court, took occasion to comment scathingly on the alleged tendency of most defense counsel in the case to consume time and pile up the record in the seven-month-old trial.

Attorneys to be issued OPA time ration coupons by Judge?

The court found Claude A. Thompson, one of the attorneys for Hans Diebel and Herman Max Schwinn, guilty of contempt for arguing after being ordered to desist and for criticism of the court. Sentence was reserved.

"It is this court's certain conviction," Justice Eicher said, "that you are one of about 20 counsel engaged in the case—and I feel certain the record will bear me out—who have consumed not merely one-twentieth of space & time represented by the transcript in this case, but more nearly one-fifth of the time consumed."

Co-operation Essential.

The court also commented that a proceeding of this trial could not be carried on unless all attorneys co-operated with the court and maintained the highest professional standards. While, Justice Eicher conceded, it was the duty of defense attorneys to protect the rights of their clients by making sure the court understood the grounds for their objections and motions, when the court had indicated it fully understood and cared to hear no more argument, it was equally the duty of these lawyers to sit down.

Mr. Thompson previously was fined for contempt and was cited on more than one occasion to show cause why he should not be held in contempt, but in the other instances no action was taken.

This last flare-up was set off when Mr. Thompson continued to talk after he was warned by Justice Eicher not to interrupt a ruling the judge was trying to make.

Denies He Intended Contempt

The attorney said all he wanted was "equal justice under the law".

Mr. Thompson denied that he intended any contempt for the court, insisting that whatever he had said or done was only to protect the rights of his clients, "so that justice might be done".

When Justice Eicher completed his statement, Mr. Thompson asked leave to withdraw from the case, declaring he no longer could protect his clients in view of the court's attitude toward him.

"Request denied," Justice Eicher replied, directing that the jury be called back to the court room and the trial resumed.

HENRY ALLEN 'GETS EVEN' WITH MRS. FRY

WASHINGTON,—Plans to assault the home of Leon Lewis, head of the Jewish Anti-Defamation League in Los Angeles, while Mrs. Lewis and their two children were in the home, were revealed in the nation's 'sedition' trial by Henry D. Allen, a Government witness.

"In 1938 Mrs. L. Fry (a West Coast writer) asked me to get a dozen men—thugs—to give them buckets of cement to throw through Lewis' windows," Allen testified.

"She said she would buy yellow oil cloth and black paint, that I was to paint numbers on it the same as Lewis' automobile numbers. I was to slip that over my own license number so we wouldn't be caught after making the assault."

"What did you do?" defense attorney Ethelbert B. Frey asked.

"I told her to go to hell and I haven't seen her since," Allen replied.

Allen had been heavily financed by Mrs. L. Fry in Los Angeles and San Diego when he was in trouble in the later city for possession of a "deadly Kike Killer weapon" in violation of California's felon statute.

If we want true peace, not a precarious armistice, we should concentrate on eliminating the root causes of war, not on maintaining an uneasy balance of power among victors on the basis of a division of the spoils. We should do well to heed some very wise words recently pronounced by Mr. Sumner Welles:

"It is inconceivable that free peoples who have been fighting to prevent Hitlerism from succeeding in imposing its domination over the world will willingly accept in the years to come some other kind of dictatorship over their destinies, even though that be exercised by the United States, the Soviet Union, and Great Britain."

MONEY ORDERS HELD NOT LEGAL TENDER FOR PAYING DEBTS

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—A post office money order is not legal tender in payment of debt, a District Court special justice ruled.

Justice George H. Potter of the Third Bristol District Court made the ruling in granting an eviction order for non-payment of rent.

Joseph Wilkinson, the tenant, testified he had sent post office money orders for his rent to Mrs. Ida Sylvia, owner of the flat he occupied, but she returned them uncashed.

Interest on the national debt now totals $4,000,000,000 a year. And it's not only the interest that bothers us, it's the principal of the thing.

"Close-Ups of the News"

Upton Close—Sunday, November 5, 1944

I have the feeling this afternoon of the Sunday before election that my country—my United States of America—is entering upon an era of victorious change, and to those pessimistic persons who say, "I hope you're right!" I say, in the old Biblical Phrase: "Oh ye of little faith!"

Let me be a diversion from your Sunday radio fare of Dorothy, Drew and Walter. Of them all, Walter most distinctly represents to me that flow of thought which stems from a superficial contact with a portion of the outside world. And which fails to see things as a whole. And which consequently gets into the terrible inconsistencies of riding the top wave of emotion at the moment.

Let me quote you from an article by Walter Winchell published in the Readers Digest and expressing, in the language which only he is capable of using, the feelings of the groups which were then picketing the war plants and the White House. Here it is—one of the greatest Winchellisms on record:

"Once again Europe is rolling the loaded dice of destiny and once again America is asked to play the role of international sucker . . . and just what will be accomplished by dying in the mud? The future of American youth is on top of American soil—not underneath European dirt. . . The unknown soldier needs no companion."

I give you this not to be unfair to Walter, who has certainly changed his mind and certainly may change it again. I give it to you as a contrast to what I have been trying to build up in these Sunday sermonettes—namely a consistent American interpretation of America's place in the world which does not constantly run from one extreme to the other, and either carry with it the political fortunes of some ambitious American demagog or get carried on the back of a temporary hero.

Now on the eve of election we are down to rock bottom in foreign policy. We have won or shall win the wars against our declared enemies in their own corners. We have a candidate whose request for the most unusual and un-American tenure of office for sixteen years is based upon an open claim to the glory of our military victories. Granting Mr. Roosevelt his share, we must also maintain as self-respecting Americans that our fighting sons and their intelligent commanders would have had these same victories—once we were in war—under any President whatsoever.

But when we come to foreign policy underlying our wars Mr. Roosevelt justly and properly must assume full responsibility. Certainly he has not allowed his military anything to do with making foreign policy nor would they have thought of meddling. And he has time and again gone over the head of his own good grey Cordell Hull and raised hob with the Department of State's best laid plans—if any of them could be put under such a category.

Therefore, if Candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt is going to take credit for the glory of our military victories, which we could and would have had without him, he must in all justice and sportsmanship take responsibility for the diplomatic failures which we could not have had without him.

As a historian whose business and duty it is to catalog contemporary events, I hereby lay out the list of these failures of President Roosevelt in his foreign policy. I challenge anyone to deny them or explain them away as anything except what they are: namely, firstly, a complete failure to grasp the stark power realism on which the two great rivals of Europe, Russia and Britain, operate and compromise. And, secondly, a complete and total lack of understanding of what is going on in the minds of the two billion uprising people of Asia across the Pacific—foes and friends alike. And, thirdly, a total absence of any statesmanship whatsoever for dovetailing the rising aspirations of the yellow race and the people of India with our American desires for permanent peace and fairness around the Pacific basin, which is the coming center of the world's commerce and culture.

These complete and total failures to grasp and handle the larger questions which underlie our present two wars break down into specific failures which I shall list below as soon as I have said this: that unless we get a statesmanship that underlies and outruns our military victories we will be left with nothing but disillusionment out of these victories, for nothing can be so empty as a victory that ends only as revenge and takes you nowhere after that.

As a student of these things, I have always stuck to the "fireman" theory that America should help squelch international conflagrations when there is a chance of putting them out, instead of waiting until they are too big to be put out and then, like a horse outside a flaming barn, rush into the flames. Consistently with this guiding theory of mine I warned for twenty-five years that our policy of opposition to Japan's ambitions, topped off by failure to keep enough force in the Pacific, would cause Japan to strike us. When Japan invaded Manchuria in 1931 and knocked down the League of Nations world order I called for an embargo on war goods to Japan. So did Dr. Judd, a medical missionary back from China who is now a member of Congress from Minnesota, and who is going to tell Americans the true story of Pearl Harbor tonight on the air, over another network at seven o'clock, EWT, so I'm told. Since our government, which should be obligated to tell it, has stowed it away until after election in two envelopes marked "Top Secret". Dr. Judd and I were called war mongers and sensationalists and official efforts were made to shut us up. Mr. Henry Stimson, Secretary of State under President Herbert Hoover, did initiate measures to restrain Japan, but was let down by the British Foreign Office in spite of its pledge to go along with us. A few months later, President Roosevelt came into office and followed the British policy of appeasing the Japanese military at the expense of China, which he put in his own picturesque language as "Babying the Jap-aneses along".

Secondly, when Mussolini and Hitler followed the example of Japan and challenged the League of Nations order in Africa and Europe I called in my public lectures for united Anglo-Saxon and French action to restrain rampant Germany and Italy. This came to a head for me after a lecture by me for the Young Men's Hebrew Association in Toronto, Canada, when the Toronto Daily Mail and Globe soundly spanked me for offending the heads of two friendly nations of the time, namely Germany and Italy.

Now as an observer whose intuition has proved pretty sound through the years, let me point out the specific misjudgments of President Roosevelt's statesmanship which add up to his general failure, Misjudgment Number 1—Mr. Roosevelt in his own words believed that we would not become engaged in any foreign war. Misjudgment Number 2—Mr. Roosevelt believed that we could actively aid the defeat of Germany without becoming involved in shooting—that we could "give Britain the tools and she would finish the job."

Misjudgment Number 3—President Roosevelt believed that the Soviet dictatorship of Russia would be so weakened by the German attack that Russia after the war would take Anglo-Saxon guidance and that the postwar world would be laid out by himself and Winston Churchill in accordance with his Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter.

Misjudgment Number 4—Mr. Roosevelt believed that the British Empire would accept the Atlantic Charter as a guiding principle. The frank Mr. Churchill soon set the world and Mr. Roosevelt straight on this and nothing has been heard of it since; and Joseph Stalin—not the Anglo-Saxon nations—now drafts the postwar picture. Stalin lays it out in accord with brutal Russian realism and not Anglo-Saxon idealism.

Misjudgment Number 5—Mr. Roosevelt thought he could bluff the Japanese while his Harry Hopkins kept from our forces in the Philippines and Hawaii the necessary planes and radar equipment which alone could have protected us from the blow. Mr. Roosevelt has carefully refrained from even mentioning the words "Pearl Harbor" when protesting against smears—which lays on him the onus of proving at this late date that he was not guilty of the misjudgment that our main fleet could be offered as a bait to striking Japanese forces, with the prospect of parrying that blow and turning it into a great strategic victory as well as causing the Japs to commit the first overt act of war. But instead of a great strategic victory this turned out to be the most disastrous strategic defeat in the history of modern warfare.

Misjudgment Number 6—Mr. Roosevelt, out of total lack of first hand knowledge about Asia by himself or any of the men whose advice he took, assumed that he could send American forces into India and other parts of Asia without taking a clear moral stand on the issue of Asia for the Asiatics, on which both China and Russia have taken a clear stand. That has led directly to the terrible mess we are in in China, which can only end in turning over all China to Soviet Russian leadership. It has led also to a British demand from India that American forces be evacuated from areas where it is said their presence complicates the effort to keep under white rule Asiatics who are in unequivocal revolt against white rule.

And so here's what we face from a historian's viewpoint as Mr. Hull drops out of the State Department through failing health: We face a Europe and an Asia both falling under the dominant influence of Soviet Russia, and therefore a complete collapse of the American ideal of a postwar order founded on consent instead of force.

Now, dovetailing with this, comes the brazen plan of the Communists Internationale to take over America, too, while Moscow is attending to Europe and Asia. I have in my hands the minutes of the secret meeting of the leaders of Communism of the Western Hemisphere held in Mexico City on May 18, 1944. Under the chairmanship of Sokolov and Laffette the members were given plans for a half-dozen Latin American revolutions favorable to Communism, several of which have taken place since that meeting in May.

The meeting specifically ordered the Communist Party of the United States, in collaboration with the C. I. O., mentioning Hillman by name, to enter one of the major parties of this presidential campaign, and by that means procure the balance of political power in the United States. And it promised that the policies of the State Department of the United States toward Latin America would be so directed and bungled that the result would be favorable to Communism even in Argentina. It is very detailed and deals with the penetration and taking over of educational, industrial, labor and even military groups in the United States. Immediately after this meeting on May 18th in Mexico City the top leaders of that meeting proceeded by airplane, with priorities, to New York City and attended the National Communist Convention there four days later on May 22. At that meeting Earl Browder ordered the change of the party's name to the Communist Association of America and placed the Communists behind the campaign for renomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt, which followed in Chicago on July 26, 1944. This, as you remember, completely reversed the attitude the Communist Party had taken toward Roosevelt's third term bid, on which Browder had said in Madison Square Garden that Franklin D. Roosevelt had committed enough crimes to be in prison for life.

You can draw your own conclusions as an American citizen. Entirely apart from any partisan interest, this historian of yours believes that it is the job of the American people—first to save the United States at least from the Communist plot, and then to build a statesmanship, from the blood-stained ground up, which will save the rest of the Americas, and then hold out for working agreements for Europe and Asia that will give people who do not want Communism a chance to live and let live, as well as saving people who do want Communism from Hitler. Stateism can be either monarchist or Communist or a combination of both. The difference between stateism and Democracy is that in Democracy the private citizen can remove the executive, but the executive cannot remove the citizen.

The job of Americans is to build a statesmanship to save first ourselves and then other peoples who want Democracy from both forms of stateism, in which absolute rule which is nothing but monarchy combines with Socialism to enslave the citizens.

Had A Visit With Elijah

Last Thursday morning I piled into the trusty Willys 77 and drove into Riverside county to have a look at a new prophet who is "The Voice of Elijah". His name is Everett H. Lea, from Canada. I had received literature from him that intrigued me.

He and I scaled Mt. Olympus in the afternoon, which is located in San Diego County.

In these days of great stress, naturally everybody works for peace on earth. Even hell itself works for peace on earth by giving a fundamental lesson to all law breakers of what happens to those who want to procure heaven by violence. Of course one must know all the factors and methods used in producing peace ultimately. I learned a lot from the "Voice of Elijah". The most valuable lesson was given me when he intoned his "invocation" on the top of Mt. Olympus, announcing to the brethren of the "White Lodge" my visit to their "Lemurian Temple".

He spoke of "unconditional surrender" to the "ways of the Christ", this courage is necessary to produce peace on earth and good will to men. This new meaning to "unconditional surrender" was worth the trip.

I enjoyed scaling the mountain and viewing the scenery and if the Germans were to learn to surrender unconditionally to the Christ and be done with armed force forever, they would really rule the world.

According to the "Voice of Elijah" it is the U. S. A. who will first submit to unconditional surrender to Christ.

According to George Washington's "vision" this will take place at the conclusion of World War III when the U. S. A. is invaded by the combined forces of the rest of the world, and beating back the invaders, America proposes to lead the world in genuine demilitarization which is finally accepted by all, thus America becomes the "savior nation".

Everett H. Lea is an interesting figure from many aspects.

Temple of Gods Sought By White Brotherhood

Southland's Mt. Olympus Scene of Quest in 1000-Acre Paradise for Those "of Right Mind"

By JAMES WARNACK

(Reprinted from The Los Angeles Times, 7-12-1942)

A paradise of 1000 acres in Southern California, with not a lot for sale, even to a millionaire, but to which all "right-minded" persons, rich or poor, will be welcome—such is Mt. Olympus, the high hill of the gods, according to its custodian, Everett H. Lea.

Briefly the story is as follows: Thousands of years ago the Hierarchy of the Great White Brotherhood (consisting of the masters of love, wisdom and power who are supposed to guide humanity and to relay to man the Word of the Most High) maintained their headquarters in a glorious temple at the summit of Mt. Olympus.

When, because of the wickedness of the people of the continent of Lemuria, the great deluge came and the sea rose, covering valleys and mountains, the "gods" or masters, sealed up their temple and moved their headquarters to Tibet. According to many Theosophists, the masters have met from time to time to plan for the welfare of the human race.

LEADER'S STATEMENT

"But these great representatives of God are coming home again, to reestablish their headquarters in their ancient temple atop Mt. Olympus, in this dawn of the world's new Golden Age," declares Lea, through whom, according to his statements and the faith of his followers, the voice of Elijah speaks today.

At the top of Mt. Olympus, beneath a giant boulder, a crew of men is busy, day and night, digging to find the door which leads into the golden, jewel-studded temple abandoned by the "masters" ages ago.

"We know that we shall find the temple because the masters have told us where it is," said Lea. "who are the masters? There are many, including Koot Humi, Gerald St. Germain, Jesus of Nazareth, Krishna, Morya El, Confucius and others. Above all stands Lord Maitreya, lord of the Solar System, to whom all the great ones look for guidance. Yet in essence and purpose, these masters are one, in their love of God and service to humanity."

PLAN OF TEACHING

No Eden for ascetics is to be this Mountain of God, according to Lea. There will be no palefaced men and women wandering alone. There will be an abundance of Adams and Eves, yet they are to be taught the difference between love and licentiousness. There are to be temples of learning, homes of healing and many beautiful dwelling places, while happy children shall roam the hills, plucking wild flowers to their hearts' content. Many new flowers soon are to spring up, but even today there are pink, white, blue and golden blossoms dotting the hills and surrounding the deep blue springs of cold water to be found among the boulders and beneath the great oaks.

"Every sentient being has its own color and tone," he explained. "For instance, pink is the color of Lord Maitreya," and he pointed to a tiny five-petaled flower, explaining further that "five is the number of man."

DAWN PILGRIMAGES

With every new dawn, Lea and his brothers and sisters of the Great White Lodge (to which order, he says, all God-loving souls belong) wend their way up the mountain toward the site of their new temple, pausing occasionally for prayer. The stentorian tones of Lea reverberate among the great rocks as, under the supposed influence of the spirit of Elijah, he invokes the aid of the "masters" to end the cruelty in the world and pronounces the doom of the hordes of Satan.

Mt. Olympus, about 120 miles south of Los Angeles, stands above Pala Road which runs through Happy Valley. The mountain overlooks Temecula, meaning "the bright light".

PRESENT SETUP

At present, "the Mountain of God" shows little development, although at the foot of the mount are several well appointed little homes, a community kitchen, a large workshop and a deep well from which a windmill lifts water for the people. There are goats to supply milk, many beehives from which Virgil's "heaven-born honey, gift of the air" is obtained, and an abundance of fruit, including berries, apricots, grapes and figs.

The inhabitants of the "Mountain of God" are vegetarians, so if any "right-minded" person goes there expecting to find pork chops he will be disappointed.

Mt. Olympus was obtained from the United States government and the title is held by the Olympic Society, Inc., of which Lea is president.

Editor's Note: They might have been vegetarians in 1942. They had chicken last Thursday noon.

FISH WILL RETURN—DEWEY WON'T ! . . WILL NEGROES FLOOD THE NORTH ?

By Washington Adams

WASHINGTON, (Special) Nov. 19.—Our chief public servant and executive, Mr. Roosevelt, did something—or should I say a THOUSAND things?—no other President ever did.

One was to go into Congressman Hamilton Fish's district during the recent campaign and predict that statesman's defeat, stating "Fish will not be a Congressman AFTER JANUARY".

(Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt knew about the gigantic election fund that was being spent by Sidney Hillman, the Russian, and the P. A. C., to say nothing of the Communists, the Interventionists and certain religio-racial groups to defeat one of the most fearless fighters for America ever to sit in Congress).

Many doorbells were rung by P. A. C. workers as many as five times, to urge a vote against Fish, who was perhaps the most slandered and lied-about man ever to run for Congress.

Mr. Fish believes that as much as $250,000 was spent to defeat him. The opposition even put up a supposed Republican, who was able to squeeze through by a measly 2,000-vote majority.

Three of the four counties are new to Fish, by reapportionment, but he carried his home county of Orange by a good majority.

No American President, prior to Roosevelt, ever went around over the country, trying to dictate to the people of this or that State or district their choice of a Representative or Senator.

Ex-candidate Dewey evidently has caught the "totalitarian" disease from FDR, for two years ago he "aped" Roosevelt by going out of his city and district to strike at Fish, and he repudiated his own party this year by gratuitously "denouncing" Fish for predicting that the Jews would vote for Roosevelt overwhelmingly, which they did. (But not all).

Perhaps Dewey's "double-cross" of Mr. Fish may have influenced a thousand Republicans to vote for Bennett and thus have given the latter his majority.

No other Republican Presidential nominee in our history has ever denounced a Republican candidate for Congress who had been duly nominated by Republicans in the party primary.

Perhaps Hamilton Fish should console himself as the "guinea pig", which enabled the American people to see that Thomas M. Dewey is a would-be tyrant and despot, unworthy of further consideration for high office.

WHAT WAS FISH'S GREATEST OFFENSE TO THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIALISTS, known as the "New Deal"?

Simply and solely that he was one fighting man, who had the courage to stand up and fight for Americanism and against New Deal Socialist Despotism, when he was for years and years surrounded by New Deal sycophants, rubber-stamps and "worms", who delighted in grovelling at the feet of the White House "rulers".

There were other Congressmen and Senators whom the White House Socialists hated with a burning hatred. They were able to defeat some of them. Others, like Hoffman, Short, Sumner, Luce, Rankin, Taber, H. W. Smith, and a score of other leaders in the House, and Senators Taft, Reed, Tydings, McCarran, George, Tobey, Gurney, Aiken and Wiley came through handsomely, despite every effort of Roosevelt and his local and foreign-born associates to unseat them.

There is probably one new Senator in the so-called "Democratic" side who will revolt against lining up with the Red Internationalists. He is Ex-governor Clyde R. Hoey, Senator-elect from North Carolina, succeeding Senator Reynolds. Hoey is an old-line Democrat—NOT a "New Dealer". He is one of the greatest living orators.

If the European war ends before the congressional elections in 1946, Hamilton Fish will come back to Congress, along with an Anti-New Deal wave, which was conquered this time only by the P. A. C. organization's bringing to the polls every one of the 10,000,000 families who had been on relief, as well as the 3,000,000 Federal civil appointees.

Dewey FAILED TO COME TO THE AID OF ANY CONGRESSMAN RUNNING FOR RE-ELECTION. He also never praised the G. O. P. record in Congress, nor said ONE WORD in praise of the Republican party, whose record is the noblest and best in our history.

Instead of praising the Republican party and its history, he PRAISED THE NEW DEAL, thereby disgusting millions of persons on the fence, who were thinking of supporting him.

The New Deal's infamous Wagner Act and Wagner-Hour law deserve radical amendments or repeal; they were the cause of the continued

Dear Friend:

May I bring to your attention a new movement, the World Education Service Council, Inc.. Alice A. Bailey and myself became founding members, because we believe that this new movement will make an important contribution toward the strengthening of the moral and spiritual basis of world peace.

The success or failure of the efforts to build a better world, after the defeat of the Axis, will largely depend upon whether we can maintain and develop in peace, those spiritual forces which are now so powerfully expressing themselves in the under-ground resistance and liberation movements of the war stricken countries. These forces exist and are vital. Our purpose is to help the people of these countries to help themselves.

The World Education Service Council for which we appeal to you has been formed with the active cooperation of representatives of twelve freedom loving nations and now has strong backing rapidly developing in this country.

The success of all our efforts for wise reconstruction and for peace will depend largely on the schools in the liberated countries. It is an educational problem as much as, if not more than, a political one. The schools must be rebuilt, re-equipped and reopened without delay. For this task the schools need, in addition to Government action, every possible private material and moral support. Books, tools, school utensils, work shops, school gardens and recreation materials are urgently needed. The teachers will have to be brought back to health and strength.

Every activity of the Council is so carried forward that friendship links are established between the students, teachers and schools in other lands with the students, teachers and schools in our own country. This is indeed practical goodwill in action.

Individual membership in the Council is $5.00. Organizational membership is $50.00. Additional contributions large and small are needed. Financial support right now is worth many times the same amount if given later. I should like to see many Men and Women of Goodwill become members of, and contributors to, this World Education Service Council. Please send your reply direct to the Council in the enclosed self-addressed envelope.

Very sincerely yours,

Foster Bailey

New Deal depression and 10,000,000 unemployed Americans DEWEY APPROVED THESE PROSPERITY DESTROYING MEASURES.

This was "demagoguery". But even MORE DEMAGOGIC was Dewey's promises to certain Negro leaders, published in the "Afro-American" of Baltimore, Washington and elsewhere. The demagoguery failed; the Negroes voted overwhelmingly for FDR. (I shall publish some figures later).

As Dr. Edward Lodge Curran of Brooklyn said, "The recent election was an American tragedy".

But two years will see an awakening, such as America has never before experienced. And we shall probably never again have such an election as the one just past.

And patriots like Fish and Nye will come back to Congress, while Dewey will pass into oblivion.

WILL NEGROES FLOOD THE NORTH ?

There is a belief hereabouts that from one to two million Southern Negroes will be encouraged to migrate into Northern States, to go on relief in such cities as New York and Philadelphia after the war, and thus swing pivotal States permanently into the New Deal Socialist or Communist camp.

During the Columbus Day ceremonies, Gov. Dewey sat beside Generoso Pope, Italian-American publisher and grand marshal of the New York parade. It was during registration week, and Dewey, turning to Pope, said: "What do you think of this tremendous registration. Gene? Where in hell are they coming from?" Gene Pope, a little embarrassed because he is a Roosevelt elector, replied: "I don't know, Governor. I just don't know."

—Drew Pearson

WHEN DEWEY LOST

Governor Dewey did not lose the election on November 7th, despite all statements to that effect. Dewey lost the election when he yielded to the intense pressure of international finance and sent Dulles to reach an agreement with internationalist Hull.

The writer listened to Dewey's speeches, delivered from coast to coast, superb courageous speeches, but speeches with a missing note, that all America sensed. Wendell Willkie yielded to that same intense pressure and he died knowing that it cost him the presidency, yet steadfastly upholding those who put America last.

Crowds everywhere cheered Dewey vociferously until it was often difficult for him to speak—up to one point. In every case where he declared himself for a world setup to enforce peace, he in each case paused for cheers, and was met only with stony silence. He must have known what he was doing. Once should have shown him that the people were not with him there. Not once but in each and every instance the results were the same.—HERALD, Hot Springs, New Mexico.

SHOLEM ASCH SAYS HE APOLOGIZES TO NO ONE

LOS ANGELES.—Denying that he had any other purpose than that of the artist to express himself in writing "The Nazarene" and the "Apostle", and vigorously defending himself against either to convert the Jews to Christianity or the Gentiles to Judaism, Sholem Asch, noted Yiddish writer told an audience of distinguished writers, artists and civic leaders some of the things that impelled him to write these books.

The occasion was a fare-well reception in his honor given by Rabbi Jacob Sonderling of the Society of Jewish Culture at the Fairfax Temple on the evening of the author's departure for the East.

"Fifteen years ago," said Mr. Asch, "I came across a publication of the Catholic Church on the Mass. Among the many illustrations in that book there was a photograph of a poor Palestine Jew, with payes and beard, and the caption under the picture said that this was the Scribe and the Pharisee that persecuted Christ. It was then that I determined to write the life of Jesus and Paul, to prove to the world that this poor little Jew had more spirituality and religion than all of the Catholic and Protestant churches put together.

"Incidentally," he said, "I found in the mass that with the exception of one prayer, the rest of the prayers were taken from the psalms."

In spite of his protestations that his only aim in writing the books were artistic, and that he was neither prophet nor martyr, Mr. Asch claimed that only future generations would acknowledge the great service he did for the Jewish people in "The Nazarene" and "The Apostle", and that he was proud of every line and every word he had written.

Rabbi Sonderling in introducing Mr. Asch spoke of the author's contribution to literature in making the "East A-live to the West", and re-creating a Jewish world which has now been extinguished in Europe.—B'nai B'rith Messenger.

Citizenship

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

ONE of the strangest quirks of human nature is the hook-up between cost and value. People so often appreciate things according to what they cost instead of according to what they are worth. A man who falls heir to a fortune without effort is much more liable to squander it than his neighbor who may have acquired a similar amount the hard way; his wealth has cost him too little.

It's like American citizenship, a thing of great value that costs too little. The fee exacted from an immigrant when he "takes out his papers" is not a drop in the sea compared to what he gets. Moreover, the vast majority of Americans acquired citizenship rights with their first conscious breath. We grew up with citizenship. We have always had it and consequently don't appreciate it as we should.

Coveted YOU may have read stories of how British citizenship, about the time America was being colonized, was keenly coveted by noble Huguenots who fled France as refugees. Almost everybody in Christendom is familiar with New Testament accounts of how Saul of Tarsus' life was spared more than once because he, although an Israelite, was born a privileged citizen of Rome.

Roman citizenship in Bible times could be bought, and it cost a great price. It had great value, too, but it wasn't worth nearly as much as our American citizenship, that costs so little. I think everybody in the United States ought to be educated for citizenship. Not many are, natives or naturalized. Not everybody needs a college degree but everybody needs to appreciate his freedom.

Need Fixed AMERICANS were Principles conscious of their citizenship for a long time back of a century ago. Government held the spotlight of youth's attention. In the last 100 years, however, invention has intrigued the interest of more and more American boys. Unfortunately a keen interest in something spells relative indifference to something else, and engineering has hid government in almost total eclipse.

John Tyler was President a century ago. In 1844 Louisa M. Alcott was ten, enjoying the placid childhood she so beautifully preserved in print. But wait . . . the people were agog that year at the world's first telegraph line, one ticker in Washington and another in Baltimore. Little boys were eagerly flattening their noses against window panes to see that new invention, a bicycle, pass by.

These five generations of high, scientific achievement are not to be despised. In them, our wage levels and national income have made America the envy of a mercenary world. But the foundation for all this was laid between Washington's day and Tyler's. If we are to hold up our living standards, Americans must better appreciate the rights and privileges of citizenship.

THANKSGIVING 1944

Bear in mind that Thanksgiving day falls on the last Thursday in November. The innovation of change in date was not prompted by divine inspiration but by commercial, material greed.

The servants of Mammon, Shekelgrubbers, who have perverted Christmas into an occasion of increased shekel profits prevailed upon their tool in high office to give them an additional week in which to collect the shekels from the Christmas trade.

Again I have had to turn down applications from enlisted men and women for subscriptions to THE BROOM and had to return them the money they had inclosed. Our paper goes to fullfledged sovereign citizens only who are free agents. Those in the armed forces have divested themselves of the liberty of thinking for themselves and acting upon their own decisions. They submitted to the discipline of the rules and regulations of the articles of war. Theirs is not to reason why, theirs is but to do and die. And most of them have not even volunteered for that status but are conscripts under duress.

Servants of the state, whether voluntary or conscripted, do not enjoy the full rights and privileges of sovereign citizens. This is a phase which most people ignore and therefore lose the proper perspective. A servant has to obey his master. The private citizen is the superior of the public servant, even of the president.

As the master so the servant. Where the sovereign citizen is conscious of his station and responsibility we will have a free Republic. Thus it is not the scramble for office that determines the course of a nation's future, but the quality of the individual citizens.

Freemen and freewomen will never permit their hired help to dictate to them. The servant will execute their commands for the comfort and well being of the masters who are the government, we the people.

This being Thanksgiving week, of the last Thursday in November 1944, we must remind ourselves to be thankful for our sovereign citizenship in this Republic and exercise our rights and powers. This alone is true thankfulness to obey Our Father and exercise the rights He gave us which are unalienable.

While it is proper to send the Broom to our friends as a surprise gift for Christmas, please don't mail in subscriptions for men & women in the armed forces because our paper goes only to fullfledged free agents who make their own decisions.

The superstition prevails, and is being assiduously fostered by corrupting elements, that the public officials are the government. He and she are only the executive servants of the orders of the government, WE the people are the government and are their superiors.

A friend gave me a book to read. As usual, I study it, because it is worth studying. Lloyd C. Douglas wrote it: THE ROBE. It is the story of the soldier who tossed for Jesus robe and won. Of course, its fiction. But nevertheless it tells many a truth. One of them is that the soldier had to do something he knew was wrong, namely crucify the Christ, so conveniently he got drunk before doing it. But when he sobered up it struck him down, he had a conscience and Christ, Lover that He is, helps this man become a man.

To kill innocent people is a terrible task, for it destroys one's soul and what does it profit conquering the whole world but losing one's soul?

Those who direct the mass killings of millions do violence to their souls. And when Jesus was approached to be King of the Jews and "liberate" them from Rome by leading an army, He called the instigators "Satan" and preferred to hold his soul undefiled, choosing Golgotha instead.

This is the victory that leads to Peace on Earth, Glory to God in the Highest and good will to men.

When celebrating Christmas remember it is the joy that our Earth harbored a man who placed his duties as the son of Our Father above the councils of Satan. "Smart" leaders mis-guide humanity to seek "Liberation" thru war and killings. You cannot pick figs of thistles, you cannot make heaven by producing hell on earth.

Let us therefore give thanks to the Almighty that He sent us his own Son Jesus, the Christ, to show us the powers and duties inherent in sonship that we, His children, may reclaim our inalienable rights and do as Jesus did, hold to our Faith in God and not serve Satan.

On page four of this issue appears a reproduction of a letter sent out by Foster Bailey, husband of Alice A. Bailey, to people who wish to see a war-free world. One of the best paying schemes today is the everlasting peace racket.

There was a time when people were in continuous fear of losing their soul to hell. The racketeers who profited from that hysteric condition sold absolutions and raked in the shekels. Today the fear of war takes the place of the fear of hell, and war being hell anyway, naturally, the same racketeers are back at the old stand in new disguise. They have a line of experiences of over five thousand years using hypnotic spells to catch the mass of stunned minds into their nets before these start thinking on their own.

There is nothing new under the sun. The dictatorship of the church, with its dogmas and penalties, is built on fear. Leadership to freedom has been perverted into autocratic and authoritarian dictation not only in church, but in state and the arts and professions, in commerce and "labor". Cartels, labor racket unions, political one-party systems and medical organizations, all use the same system. Their success depends upon the ignorance of their dupes.

Rep. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas

39 years old, calls himself "just a boy from the country", but he is a gentleman farmer, a former Rhodes scholar, industrialist and a college professor. He is, the son of a well-to-do Fayette newspaper publishing family.

The cue to the trickery of Fulbright is given in a "former Rhodes scholar" and a "gentleman farmer".

Here you have a typical Englishman transplanted to an Arkansas constituency. He is the author of the famous resolution that bears his name which paves the way for the UNION NOW movement and a world court organization that is supposed to keep peace in the world by armed force.

A Rhodes scholar. This scholarship by Cecil John Rhodes, the great "statesman" who engineered the acquisition of the Boer colonies by war, provides in his will $2,000 a year for three years graduate work, to "foster friendly relations among English-speaking nations", while in fact, like the Carnegie endowments, it is a means of educating young men into an attitude of mind and sympathy, to PREFER the Empire return of USA into the status of a dependent colony. And is is achieving exactly such results.

Under the guise of the Brotherhood of Man we found the Board of the Mother Church in Boston declare that God is on the side of the Allies against the Axis. How anybody with good sense can accept such a declaration in good faith is our contemporary example of mental anachronism, but many disciples of the "Christian Science" Church fell exactly for that kind of dope, proving again the truth of Lenin's statement that modern religion is the dope of the people by which their rulers anesthetize them so that they can plunder and even kill them without a murmur of protest. They are even eager and proud to be robbed and killed, sacrificed for the "honor" of something or other.

This perversion of the teachings of the Christ is the subject of this series of articles. Because the Christ is that infinite LOVE in us which reminds us continually of God's LOVE for us ALL, so that we rebel at the idea of violence and brutish force, the racketeers, naturally, pretend to represent that very thing and all their schemes are duplications of promises inherent in the nature of LOVE, only they assure the victims that by following THEIR ways will they achieve the goal, not by following the CHRIST. Of course, they don't say so bluntly, but an analysis of their methods discloses that very thing.

The under-ground resistance and liberation movements in the war stricken countries express themselves in deeds of violence, sabotage, treachery, etc. The "World Education Service Council, Inc." proposes to extend "those spiritual forces" to maintain and develop them in peace, as means of building a "better world".

The idea of Rhodes and Carnegie of a "better world" was that England has the secret of creating it by ruling the world. To that end they made endowments. Of course, England introduced a measure of industrial improvements into the lives of the natives it colonized. But England has been very careful not to give them spiritual liberty, liberty to think, decide for themselves and govern themselves accordingly. It is the same system used in the Catholic, C. S., Episcopal and all other churches where the organization lives off the ignorance of its subjects. They help unfold the mind and soul only to the extent that it increases the domination of the Pope or head of the organization, they do not lead to emancipation of the individual from dogma of church control.

Alice and Foster Bailey propose to keep the same attitude of strife alive in the post war world which produced the world war in the first place by not solving the fundamental problem, but "idealizing" the violent resistance impulse, which is exactly what Jesus has warned against, namely, that one cannot take the Kingdom of Heaven by force.

To produce a peace loving post war world one cannot follow the technique and spirit of war and under-ground resistance which enhrone the Communists all over the world today. There has to be complete and radical re-birth of mind, spirit, soul and body. Peace surpasses UNDERSTANDING. Thus it cannot be had by rationalizing. There is something much more fundamental than human reason that has to start functioning in men and women to insure, and lead to, peace. And that is LOVE, that love that is exploited for war. Because people love their dear ones that they are persuaded to go to war to protect them.

The human being must discover for himself and herself, that LOVE itself holds the solution to all vital problems on earth. For GOD is the author of LOVE. Once the human mind, instead of attempting to rule and control, submits to be ruled and governed by DIVINE LOVE, then the divine Intelligence of this CREATIVE LOVE reveals to him the plan of creation itself.

Providence had not meant men to be beasts of toil. Thus man received ingenuity by which he harnesses the forces of nature by constructing machines to do his labor for him and keep him in plenty and comfort.

Neither did Providence mean men to be beasts of prey and murder. Thus, again, it provided him with the means of solving all problems lovingly and equitably, rightly and perfectly. This Jesus expressed when he stated: "Therefore seek ye FIRST the RULE of God and its RIGHTEOUSNESS".

There is a right and wrong to every possible action, to every possible solution. A chemist knows that he has to find the right formula to produce his results as desired. Thus there is only ONE right formula to materialize Peace on earth and no forcing will do. And this one RIGHT formula is to LOVE God with all one's might and the neighbor as oneself.

It is not the might of England, America and Russia that will bring peace to the world by armed force. Not a League of Nations or a world court. It is the acceptance of the CHRIST and of the RULE of God FIRST. This makes it perfectly clear, then, that one cannot establish peace by joining Alice's and Foster's racket at $5 and $50 a throw, to perpetuate the "underground".

Jesus is an Individualist. What the individual sows, THAT also does he reap. The regeneration is individual. There is no vicarious substitute. To become a citizen of God's heaven you must be heavenly yourself. LOVE must be your own nature. Recognition that ALL problems are already solved and that you must elevate, and educate your own intelligence to reach the level of the ELOHIM, the divine PLANNERS, makes life easy. The chemist has better sense than to attempt to go counter to the laws of nature. By discovering what they are he learns to utilize them to his needs. The same is true of SPIRITUAL science.

The racket of the church is to declare that religion is mysterious. The same racket the Jewish Banksters and usurers put forth when they say that "nobody knows MONEY", to KNOW is to rule, to control.

Once the Scientist discovers the RULE he can control the situation by using the rule for his benefit. Naturally, the Money racketeers and the Church racketeers want to keep you under control, so they say there is no RULE by which you can guide yourself in money matters, SCIENTIFICALLY, just as the church racketeers deny that RELIGION is SCIENCE, because it, then, would free the people from subjection to the Pope and all the rest of spiritual traitors who betray the Christ for the shekels they can rake in by making a mystery of the most simple thing in the world, namely, that OUR FATHER loves us ALL alike and plays no favorites, neither did HE ever give any man power over another.

Absolute LAW and order governs the WHOLE universe, in all its aspects, physical as well as spiritual. THIS knowledge is RELIGION.

PUBLISHER GROUP SUPPORTS EDITOR

NEW YORK,— Directors of the American Newspaper Publishers association unanimously authorized the A. N. P. A. general counsel to appear in support of the Miami Herald Publishing Co. and its associate editor, John D. Pennekamp, who have been cited for contempt of court.

"The American Newspaper Publishers association is supporting the Miami Herald in this case," a statement said. The proceedings are in the circuit court for the 11th judicial circuit of Florida, in Dade county.

Clear-Cut Issue

"The citation for contempt served upon the Miami Herald and Mr. Pennekamp was laid before the directors of the American Newspaper Publishers association," said A. N. P. A. President Linwood I. Noyes.

"It was the opinion of the directors that the citation squarely raises the issue as to the right of a newspaper to comment upon judicial procedure in the interests of the public that is affected by that procedure.

"The citation was referred to our general counsel who expressed the opinion that under the decisions of the United States supreme court, the Miami Herald was wholly within its rights in publishing the comment it published."

Back in their history, but not beyond the memory of old Indians who now accept their condition, there were American Lidices which are seldom mentioned although they must be the subject of bitter reflection and ironic thoughts on the boundless idealism and truculent morality of their masters against today's aggressors and the authors of atrocities in other parts of the world.

ALLIES SMASH U. S. DESERTER MOBS IN ITALY

ROME,—Allied military police have smashed two criminal gangs largely composed of deserters from the American and Canadian armies and French Legion. The military authorities now are seeking other deserters, in Rome and Naples who have chosen to be criminals rather than soldiers.

'CHRISTIAN' COMMITTEE TO AID B'NAI B'RITH ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE

CHICAGO,—The formation of a committee of "Christian Friends of the Anti-Defamation League", composed of almost 1,000 'Christian' clergymen, was announced by Sigmund Livingston, founder and chairman of the Anti-Defamation League, at a four-day conference here of specialists in combating prejudice. The conference was held on the occasion of the annual meetings of the National Commission of the Anti-Defamation League and of A. D. L. regional office directors and headquarters staff members.

Mr. Livingston declared: "A disturbing condition today is the prejudice expressed privately in groups throughout the country by men and women in the higher social strata. This, in our opinion, is of greater danger than the rantings of professional anti-Semites. It shows some acceptance by the enlightened and educated and usually sound people of some of the libels and accusations against the Jew."

DEWEY ON RUSSIA

Jan. 20, 1940: speech before Women's Nat'l Republican Club:

"A conspicuous and most unfortunate departure (of the administration) was the recognition by the New Deal of Soviet Russia.

"In that country, a Godless government had raised to a state creed the sterile doctrine of atheism. It achieved power by the annual murder of large numbers of its own people. It is a perversion of government abhorrent to the conscience of mankind.

"We need no such partnership."

NIPS UNWANTED IN COLORADO

DENVER,— The Colordao State Chamber of Commerce asked the War Department to lift its West Coast restrictions so that Japanese evacuated inland might return to their prewar homes in California, Oregon and Washington.

Colorado chamber officials pointed out that between 8000 and 9000 Japanese-Americans and Japanese aliens are now listed as residents of Colorado—a ratio they believe is "higher than any other state".

Who Grabs the 'Dimes' for Crippled Children?

By WILLIAM J. POWERS of the Chicago Bar
PELLEY AND THE PRESIDENT
(Conclusion)

Pelley earned the further enmity of the White House in disclosing in no uncertain language that the Communists were moving in and taking over the Democratic Party and through it, the government, beginning about the time Al Smith took his famous "walk". His subscribers, associates and agents have been harassed for several years, not only by the F. B. I. but by the secret gestapo of the Communists. One F. B. I. agent, for instance, by the name of Morton, strode into a bedroom of Pelley's home where his daughter was sleeping with another girl, pulled the covers from the bed, ordered her to dress and advised her that if she wasn't dressed in fifteen minutes he would drag her in handcuffs through the streets of Indianapolis in whatever condition of undress she happened to be. She was arrested and charged with harboring a fugitive from justice who at the time, as the F. B. I. knew, was not in Indiana but was living in Pennsylvania. The charge was later dismissed.

One of Pelley's associates, Zachary, was beaten unconscious by a mob of Communists headed by six taxi-loads of professional sluggers while he was conducting a meeting at 876 N. Wells Street, Chicago on November 29, 1938. He was left lying in a pool of blood with a fractured skull. Many other persons, most of them elderly, were also beaten with clubs.

The extent of the Communist Gestapo was little known until February of this year when the Tablet, the official newspaper of the Catholic Archdiocese of Brooklyn, intercepted a confidential report of one of the Communist front organizations. The report disclosed that this organization, which has apparently unlimited financial backing, operates a nation-wide hook-up of spies who investigate active opponents of Communism or the administration. This is the organization which is behind the marathon 'sedition trial' now pending in Washington, since its publications indicate not only that it prophesied the date the indictment would be returned by the grand jury but also the names of persons to be indicted in the future if the present prosecution proved successful. (Tablet 2/12/44)

How correct he was in his battle against Communism may be discerned from a recent issue of the Tablet (10/7/44) which contains a report of the leading Communist of Chile, Comrade Lafferte, drawn up after a secret meeting in Mexico City on May 18th of this year. The report states:

"As far as the proletariat is concerned, we base our work on the Union of Soviet Trade Unions which is in touch with various organizations in other countries, such as the Worker's Congress in England, trade union organizations in India, in Australia, in New Zealand and in Africa, the C. I. O. and Brotherhood of Railroad Workers in U. S. and the C. T. A. L. in Latin America. Within these organizations the Communist cells have a control which permits us to hope for victory. If it is true that the Leader of the Labor Movement in England does not agree with our ideology nevertheless we have with us, in Hillman and Lombardo, two important leaders on this continent."

The Constitution guarantees to every person the right to speak and publish his views on any question; it guarantees the right to peacefully assemble and discuss any subject and to criticize or denounce any public person or program. It guarantees the inviolability of the home against unreasonable search and seizure of private property, all of which rights have been violated by the present Attorney General, not only in Pelley's case but in that of dozens of others. The Constitution also guarantees the right to vote and those who care to "clear it with Sidney" are entitled to do so, although if they do, this may be the last time voting for Federal officials will be more than a gesture.

The mass trial (Moscow style) to purge Nudal critics drags on and on. Perhaps after all we can't do business in U. S. as it's done in Russia. Stalin once expressed surprise that we didn't shoot Sen. Wheeler when he couldn't go along with the Nudal. Now wouldn't that be a nice way to settle differences of opinion? Of course in Moscow all the seditionists would long ago have been shot.—Money, N. Y.

EGGS FOR HOG FEED

When you pay 60c a dozen for eggs just bear in mind that this is "keeping down inflation" a la Nu Deal, while the same Nudal sells eggs to hog feeders at 5c a case. As the cases are worth 30c this is 25c per case less than nothing for the eggs. Crackpotism continues to hold public attention away from the powers behind.—The (Hot Springs, N. M.) Herald.

Every person who looks to government for bread is a menace to those who must be taxed to support government.

Ravin 'a La Mode

By Eugene Eustace

Once upon a P. M. dreary
As I listened weak and weary
To a story bleak and bleary
Coming from the witness chair,
Suddenly I heard a banging,
Then a whining nasal twanging
In hysterical haranguing
Stirring violently the air.

"Am I sleeping, am I waking?"
Then I muttered, slightly quaking.
"Is a riot in the making?"
"Is it some new awful crime?"
"Why this racket demagogic,
"Silly substitute for logic—
"Shall we call it catastrophic
"Just for purposes of rhyme?"

Rubbing then my eyes and waiting,
Heart abating, breath abating,
All my energy deflating,
"What" I cried, "has fate in store?"
From behind me came the answer:
"You must take it like a man, sir."
"You are frying in the pan, sir,
"In the pan forevermore."

Back I looked and there above me,
There, believe me if you love me,
Was a sight designed to move me
And perplex me to the core.
There, as answer to the riddle,
Perched upon a bust of Biddle,
There it sat above the middle,
Middle of the courtroom door.

"Why are you," I said excited,
"In this atmosphere benighted?"
"Have you also been indicted?"
"Are you reptile, beast or fowl?"
"Knowest thou this thing of fury
"Spouting there before the jury
"Noisome foul judicial puree
"With a hate-inspired howl?"
"Tell me, creature," I demanded,
"Tell me honestly and candid
"Why this fellow, heavy-handed,
"So incontinentally shouts?"
"Does this great display of rancor
"Come from some deep-seated canker
"Or from disaffection swanker
"Even stylister than gout?"

"Whence this pompous apparition
"Whose unenviable mission
"Is to rave about sedition
"With a hollow specious ring?"
"Was there ever, ever, ever
"Such a blundering unclever
"Ill-intentioned misendeavor—
"Was there ever such a thing?"

"Him he certified New Dealer,
"Special prosecuting spieler,
"Him a very faithful heeler,"
Quoth the creature o'er the door.
"Him he O. John, O John Rogge,
"Him he very, very foggy,
"Him he croakie like a froggy
"On and on forevermore."

"Him he get a lot of money
"To conduct this trial phony,
"Does he realize how looney?"
"Maybe yes and maybe no.
"Him he must obey his master,
"Sticking like a porous plaster,
"Though it lead to dire disaster,
"Nothing matters but the dough."

"How much longer must we suffer
"From this maladjusted duffer,
"This offensive huff-and-puffer?"
Quoth the creature, "evermore."
"How much longer bear this hawking,
"This ear-spitting caterwauling,
"This vituperative squalling?"
Quoth the creature "evermore."

"Ever, ever, evermore,"
Quoth the creature o'er and o'er,
Perched upon the bust of Biddle,
Just above the courtroom door.

'Sedition' Jury Hears Maloney Threatened Prosecution Witness

WASHINGTON.—Henry D. Allen, a prosecution witness in the 'sedition' case, testified under cross-examination that he was threatened with indictment by a former prosecutor if he did not "come clean" and tell the grand jury all about the Rev. Gerald B. Winrod, a defendant.

Mr. Allen said the threats were made by William Power Maloney, special assistant to the Attorney General, who handled the earlier phases of the case before the grand jury.

Questioned by Albert W. Dilling, a defense attorney, Mr. Allen said that in 1942 he was summoned to Mr. Maloney's office at the Justice Department. The witness said the prosecutor asked: "Mr. Allen, do you want to be indicted?" "I told him," the witness said, "I didn't know what I could be indicted for. And he said 'you are not telling the whole truth. How would you like us to put on a dictograph record of your conversation with Mr. Winrod?'"

The witness said he replied he would be glad to hear such a record if one existed, but he wanted to make certain it "was not the voice of some Jew actor from Hollywood."

Mr. Allen said he testified before the grand jury on that and other occasions. Mr. Maloney is not at present connected with the case, but the chief prosecutor is O. John Rogge, another special assistant to the Attorney General.

The prosecutors had succeeded in keeping out of the record at the trial defense attempts to justify the anti-Semitic propaganda circulated by some defendants, which the prosecution accuse them of borrowing from the Nazis.

Repeated efforts to bring out on cross examination of a prosecution witness testimony supporting the defense explanation of attacks on the Jews were blocked when Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher sustained objections of Mr. Rogge.

The defense seeks to show that those defendants who were anti-Semitic were only fighting Communism, which the defendants claimed was led by Jews, and these defendants were patriotically trying to protect America instead of plotting to undermine its armed forces, as the prosecution charges.

Edward Buckley Dismissed by Smythe

WASHINGTON, (Special)—This is to announce that Mr. Edward Buckley was my attorney of record up until one month ago when he appeared as a prosecution witness in Baltimore against James J. Laughlin, my former attorney. I at once dismissed Attorney Buckley for the very sound and sufficient reason that he violated a matter of principle and confidence in that he had stated to me prior to becoming a prosecution witness in the Laughlin matter that he was the one man who could exonerate Mr. Laughlin in his case at Baltimore. As soon as Mr. Buckley appeared with the prosecution in that case, I dismissed him as my attorney and filed a motion with the Court to that effect.

Since that time Mr. Buckley has not appeared in the 'sedition' case and it is a misstatement of fact when he says through Attorney Koehne that his absence at the 'sedition' case is due to the investigation of potential witnesses for the simple fact that Mr. Buckley knows none of my witnesses nor does he know anything pertaining to this case in relation to me.

ATTORNEY ARRESTED

WASHINGTON, — Michael Edward Buckley, jr., 39, attorney in the sedition trial, was arrested twice recently on charges of drunkenness at the Third Police Precinct after his car was found parked in the middle of the street in the 1800 block of K st. nw.

According to police, Buckley first was placed under arrest at 1 a. m. when he called at the station to claim his car. He was released several hours later, but was arrested the second time. On the second trip, police said, he was carrying "a fist full of summonses", which he had drawn up and which he demanded be served. Buckley forfeited security on both charges.

FRANK GANNETT PROPOSES NATIONAL COALITION PARTY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.,—Frank Gannett, publisher, proposed formation of a "national coalition party" to "unite the Democratic party of the south and the Republican party of the north on national problems."

Pelley's Prosecutor Receives Plum

H. A. SCHWEINHOUT NOMINATED TO SUCCEED JUSTICE LUHRING

WASHINGTON, (Special)—At the time that Tom Dewey, then District Attorney of New York, prosecuted Fritz Kuhn for "robbing the Bund" it was rumored that in return he would be financed to become a presidential candidate. He convicted Kuhn of robbing Kuhn, and, believe it or not, received the promised plum.

In the present mass 'sedition' trial it was charged that Chief Justice Eicher was promised a new plum is case of conviction of the defendants. Thereupon Eicher eliminated Attorney Laughlin as defense counsel for conduct that was "unfair".

When O' Dwyer conducted the abortive prosecution of the 14 "Christian Front rebels" with their "arsenal" of guns, etc., it was rumored that he, too, would receive campaign support, which materialized in the past campaign.

Now Wm. Dudley Pelley's prosecutor at Indianapolis received a plum. It is being rumored that Prosecutor O. John Rogge is to be equally rewarded. Are these "rumors" mere rumors or is this a systematic method of "incentives?" Who is behind it all?

Wm. P. Maloney, successful prosecutor of Viereck, was promoted after the Supreme Court reprimanded him for his "foul blows" at the defendant.

Henry A. Schweinhaut, a special assistant to the Attorney General and widely known in Capital legal circles, was nominated by President Roosevelt to be a District Court justice, succeeding the late Justice Oscar R. Luhring, who died August 17.

Mr. Schweinhaut, 42, a former assistant United States attorney, has been in the Justice Department for the last eight years and has had a part in a number of important cases.

Mr. Schweinhaut prosecuted William Dudley Pelley when the present defendant in the District sedition trial was convicted of sedition in Indianapolis. He likewise directed the prosecution in the Minneapolis Socialist Workers case, where a number of defendants were convicted of conspiring to overthrow the Government, and the Albic case, which brought the conviction of mutinous seamen.

OLD AGE and SURVIVORS Insurance Taxes collected in 1944 will pay ALL BENEFITS for 3½ years

Source: Research Council for Economic Security

Unless Congress, before December 31, this year, takes action to retain the present rate, payroll deductions for old age and survivors' insurance will automatically be doubled in 1945. A similar increase will be effective against employers, who are required to match payments made by employees. The rate now is 1% of earnings up to $3000—beginning January 1, 1945, the rate will be 2% if the law is not revised.

The chart gives a picture of how greatly tax income, at the present rate, exceeds current requirements to meet benefit payments. Estimates of probable benefit costs in 1945, 1946 and for the first six months of 1947, are purposely made high. Actual results may be that taxes collected in 1944 will last longer than indicated.

Senator Vandenberg (Michigan), who has given a great deal of time and study to the matter of social security financing, favors retention of the present rate for another year. Insurance Economics Society of America, a research group which has carefully studied all phases of the question, also favors action to maintain the present tax rate during 1945.
